

Water: Impact of Dams On Its Qualities

By Bharat Jhunjunwala

2014. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 330 About the Book This book explores the impact of hydropower dams on subtle, physio-chemical and biotic qualities of river water. It is suggested that water acts as a medium of transferring spiritual charges in the three major religions of the world Hinduism, Islam and Christianity. It is shown that river waters carry spiritual charges and that these are damaged by hydropower projects. It is shown that even Run-of-River dams bring changes in subtle physio-chemical and biotic qualities of river water. Finally, it presents an alternative method of generating hydropower so that the qualities of water of the Ganga can be conserved. About the Author After graduating in Science, Bharat Jhunjunwala acquired his doctoral degree in economics from the University of Florida at the age of 23. He returned to India and joined the Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore as an Assistant Professor. He lives on the banks of River Alaknanda. He has been actively involved in conservation of river Ganga. He has filed a number of cases before the High Courts, Supreme Court and National Green Tribunal on the subject. He has undertaken extensive studies of economic thought of ancient India. He has written about 15 books on various subjects relating...
